Mnumzana Obekebileyo.

Mhlekezisi ndibhala lencwadi ana incinci ndikucela ukuba umelamamele. Ndingumfundi wegela le E-E.

Njengokuba ndingumfundi wesikolo sase-Kuyasa oko ndafika kwesikolo, sinengxaki yo ngabina zincwadi (itextbook) ngoku fonto ithi ibangele thina bafundi sibene-ngxaki kwiizifundi zethu. Ngoku sicela intse-benziswano kubantu osebenza nabo ukuba bancede bayithathe lengxelo asifuni desenz e kaktubi. Izikolo zethu zikwimeko ezimaxongo ngendlela engathethelayo.

Ngoko ke ndiyacela A mnumzana khawusinc-

Dear MEC

The youth of 1996 fought for equality and today, almost 20 years later, we the youth of 2016 are fighting for equal education. The Eastern Cape always has the lowest pass percentage as far as matric exams are concerned. This is due to the inadequate facilities that we currently learn in.

There are some of our grievances:

- Most of our schools ^{have} inadequate facilities prohibiting optimum learning.
- There is a huge shortage of textbooks and for some subjects we don't even have textbooks.
- A considerable percentage of our teachers are SGB teachers that are payed by our schools and still, as a "No Fees Schools", we have to contribute towards a development fund to be able to pay the teachers.
- There is no equality and we are prepared to fight until we get what we deserve, and that is equality.

It is ironic that we have to our fight for what is our basic right, a right to education. We hope that you take our grievances to heart and come up with strategies to address us.

Yours sincerely
Sipho Mkhize

FROM : ZIPHOZOTHANDO MGENEJE

- Greetings Sir / Madam.

My name is Ziphozothando Mgenje. From the abandoned school FORSES GRANT S.S.S. My hand-writing is burnt into ashes just like that Laboratory so pardon my ink!

A better future I seek, a bright tomorrow I long. Unfortunately I can't pursue my dream of getting the best quality education my Mother demanded. I'm crying, ^{secretly} ~~secretly~~ I'm dying a slow painful mind death. One that cuts deep to ^{the} core.

I am sorry. Pardon my random apologies I just want to visualise a clear path of 'a black man, will die apologising in his own land!' ohh and I'm sorry for that quote too. In hope that you will gather all my sorries and build me a better school, I'd appreciate it very much.

By not giving me a good school to learn in you stole my future. By not wanting to hear my cry you stole my only opportunity for a better tomorrow a better South Africa a different citizen.

You stole my Future and I want it back!!!
